Dear Dorothy • the Hinge .. 2
CROSSFIRE .. 4
Where is KA 007? .. 6
Beware the Ides of March .. 8

ENTRE NOUS

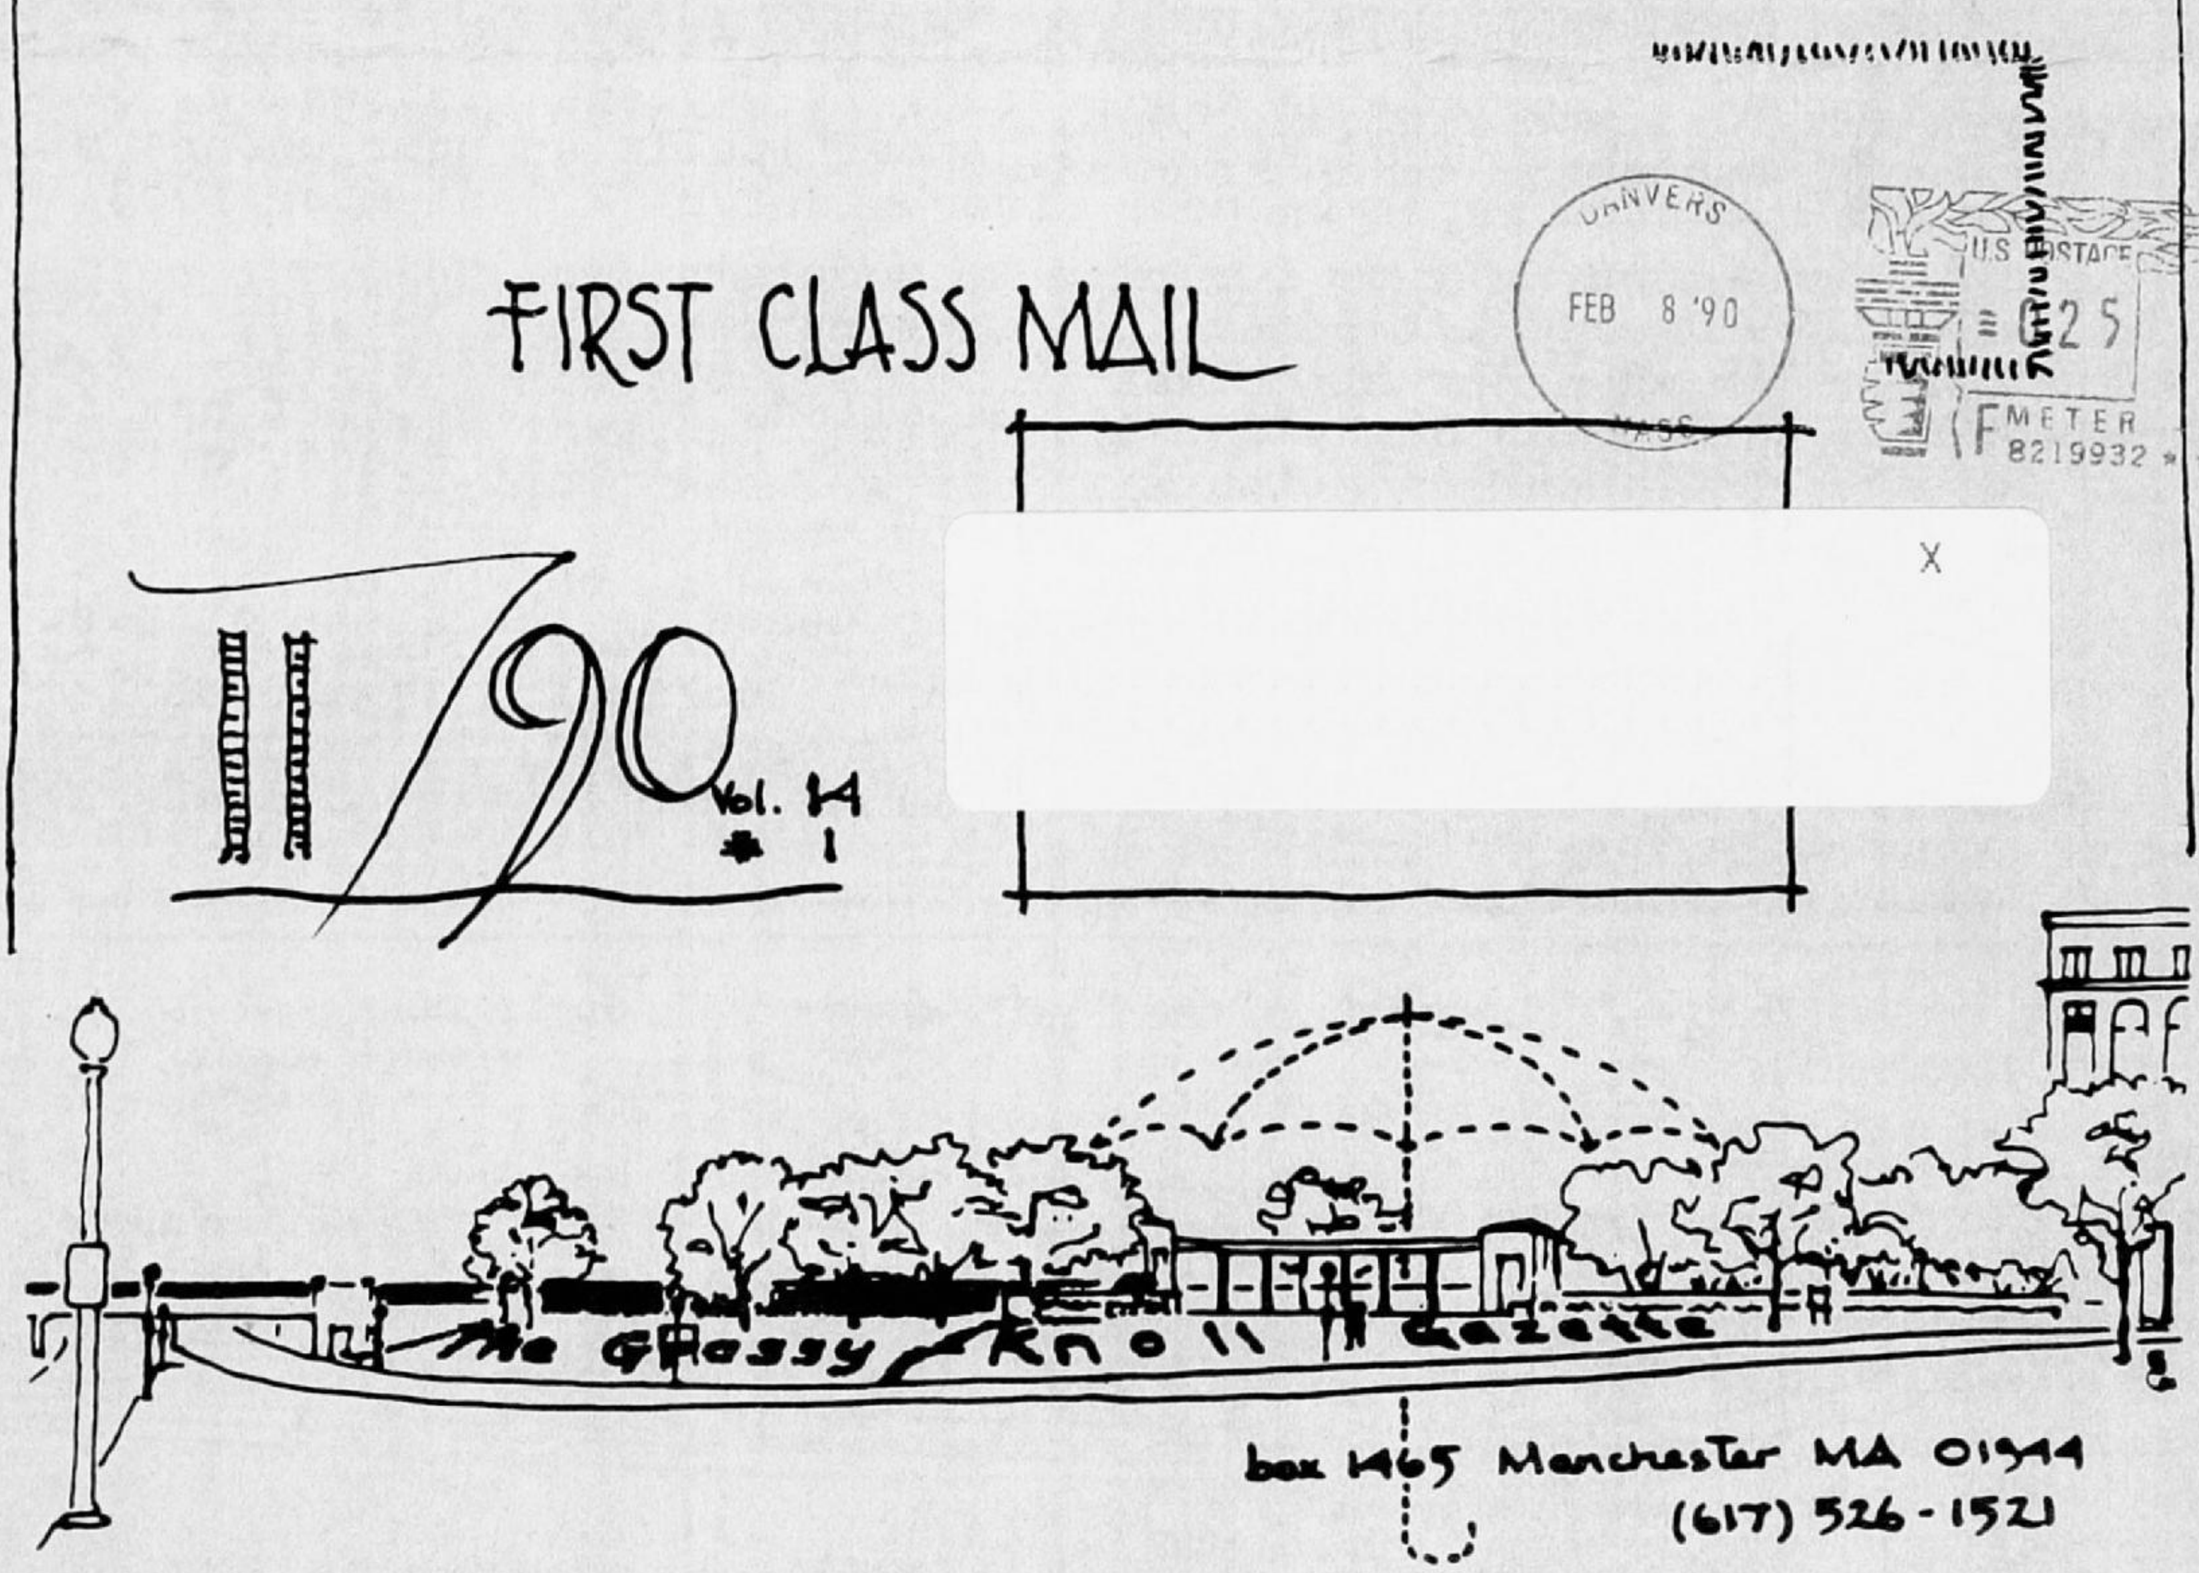
confidential • personal • 'secret' (almost)

FIRST CLASS MAIL

UNIVERS
FEB 8 '90
MASS
U.S. POSTAGE
$.25
FMETER
8219932

1990 Vol. 14 # 1

X



box 1465 Manchester MA 01944
(617) 526-1521

the GRASSY KNOLL GAZETTE is published bi-monthly, with occasional dividends between, by CUTLER DESIGNS box 1465 Manchester MA 01944 ... $10/year, $12 overseas printed by Minuteman Press, Danvers, MA .. circ. c. 200 c. 86 complimentary

Dear DOROTHY: (Mrs E P Thompson)

Everypne congratulating your husband on his E.N.D., The Beginning History Turns on a Hinge in The I/29/90 Nation, it seems only fair to offer the same to you ... We do, with some good news, too.

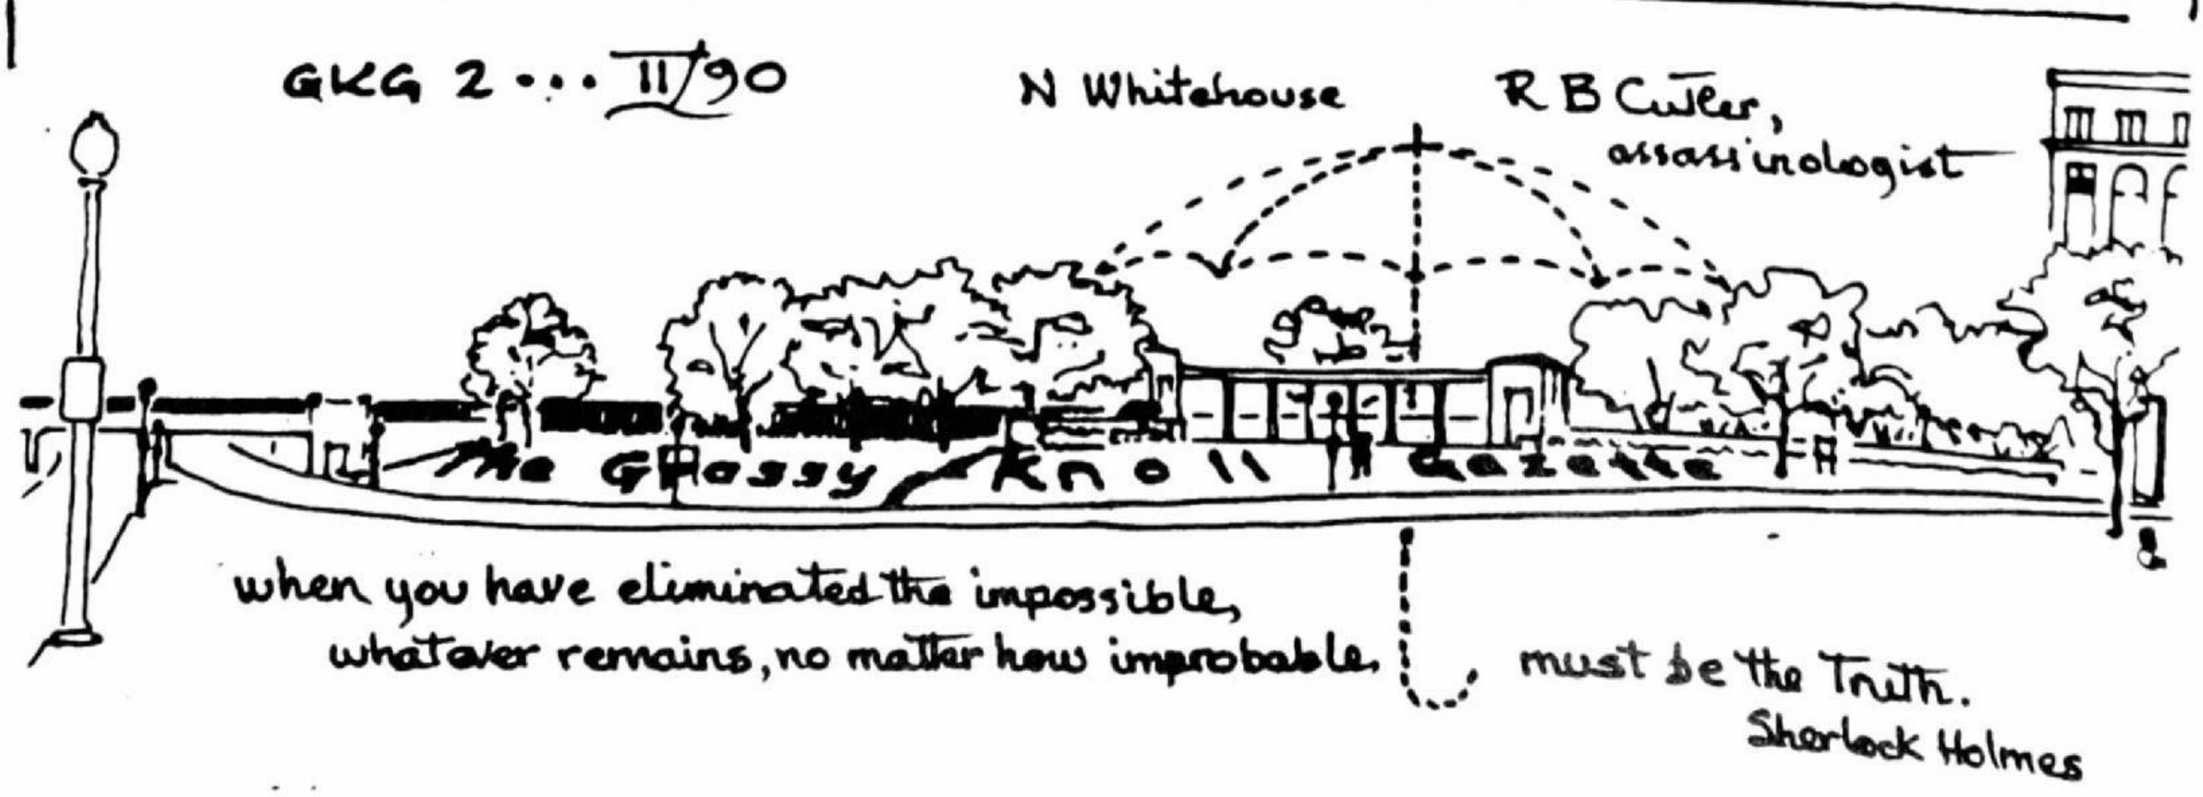
> ... From 1980 on, we (E.N.D.) put the causes of Peace and Freedom together. We repeatedly crossed East-West frontiers, entered into dialogues with official and unofficial voices and prized open doors through which the events of 1989 have come. To our surprise, after 1985, our own words started to come back to us -- from Moscow .....
>
> At some time between 1982 and 1985 matters came to a crisis .... at certain moments history turns on a hinge of new ideas .... (pp 118 & 121)

We have been waiting for someone to understand and perhaps embrace the moment of crisis we discovered. It happened in Moscow, just as you say, between 1982 and 1985, specifically an hour before midnight 1 September to an hour after midnight 2 September 1983.

This moment turns your surprise to understanding why your words came back in 1985. A point when matters came to a crisis, it was the moment when the hinge was installed, the hinge that new ideas turned to opn the doors for the oldest of ideas: Peace, offered in a radical confrontation with War ..... War blinked.

Man's inhumaity against Man was smothered as the State changed gears and accelerated the withering-away process. Only where it plays footsy-footsy withe the media in publishing the idiotology that fuels the US Professional War Machine, PWM, is anyone hoodwinked by the death-rattle of its final agonies: the Chinese solution in Panama.

GKG 2 ... II/90



when you have eliminated the impossible, whatever remains, no matter how improbable, must be the Truth.
Sherlock Holmes

Dear DOROTHY . con't.

Our moment begins when the men in the Kremlin, Andropov is premier, realize they are helpless to refute the bad-mouthing spewing from the White House. Shultz' TV performance, interuptingMoscow's evening news, catches the Kremlin before the remains of the Korean airliner are located. Without a corpus delicti the Kremlin can but listen, aghast, as Shultz tells the world the Evil Empire has shot down a civilian airliner murdering 269 innocent people in cold blood.

It's impossible..No? Intelligence reports the intercepted plane as disappearing off radar at 9,900 meters, flying in the direction of the Sea of Japan .... what plane is Shultz talking about?

Now intelligence reports KA 007's remains in the Sea of Okhotsk ... do we remember May Day 1960 .. the U-2 "shootdown" ?? ... CIA sabotage of its own to murder Peace at the Summit in Paris ... Shultz' talk begings to make sense ...for him ... wasn't that a Korean airliner in 1978, intercepted over White Sea when US Secretary of State whatshisname was here for disarmament talks??...

Where's the gain in sacrificing your own civilians? You go one-up on the enemy and leave him with TV-egg on face... does this skewer the European Peace Movemnet ? Yes .... Does this mean deployment of the Pershings later this fall ? Probably ....It certainly does delay withdrawal from Kabul .... Damn.

Mon Dieu ! is this CIA revenge for loss of its station in their embassy bombing last April in Beirut ? Is this the covert arm of their Project Democracy ? .... setting the stage for re-election of the Ayatollah's Great Satan ? ....four more years of .....

Now intelligence reports a newscast: "Airliner safe on Sakhalin" ... we know it's not there .... where does this fit with Shultz? there's no other explanation but sabotage and human sacrifice for improved TV imagery .... the no-fix over Kamchatka and the skewed missile-launch over Sakhalin smacks of a Stealth field trial ... Does this mean more MX funding ? .... If so ....

Do we have a consansus to withdraw, to go it alone, ignore this madness?? ... we start unilateral disarmament now ..as my grandmother said, "Cast your bread upon the waters and it will come back buttered toast" .... we have met the enemy and they is not us ... refuse to play this game and their enemy vanishes ... it is they ....Shultz wins the battle and Peace wins the war ...

We must say nothing about the remains ... play the Okhotsk card close until we need documents signed ... let the short-term garbage fall .... meeting adjourned (Ø12Ø/IX/2/83)

With the hinge in place the crisis passes, our moment ends. The confidence it inspires filters into the veins and hearts of mankind as the elixir of Freedom. History pours through E.N.D.'s open doors... Heralded by the Chinese/US solution in Panama can GLASNOST USA be far behind? ▼

GKG-3... IX/90

CROSSFIRE by Jim Marrs, 595 pp, Carroll & Graf · NY · 1989

The author has ammassed a mountain of information for the beginner with a packet of surprises for older hands. The compilation of lifetime's reporting , a healthy portion of it on JFK/Dallas, it is hard to find any part of the coup d'état that has been overlooked. It is rewarding to find such subjects as Oilmen, Agents, Secret Service, LBJ, Cubans, Hoover all carefully introduced with concise historical background adding measurably to their being understood in perspective.

In particular, the author's long association with Marguerite Oswald produces a welcome change from the usual journalese bent on character assassination in keeping with re-iteration of the Lone-Nut-Assassin Myth. Allowing her to speak her own lines, the ones she believed, and she never shied away from so doing, is a major step towards clearing the Oswald name from its conspiracy-induced stigma. Unfortunately the author cannot seem to bring himself to write, "Oswald did not do it." Years of living under the snipping of editors' shears apparently makes such brazen truthfulness impossible. But he sure comes close.

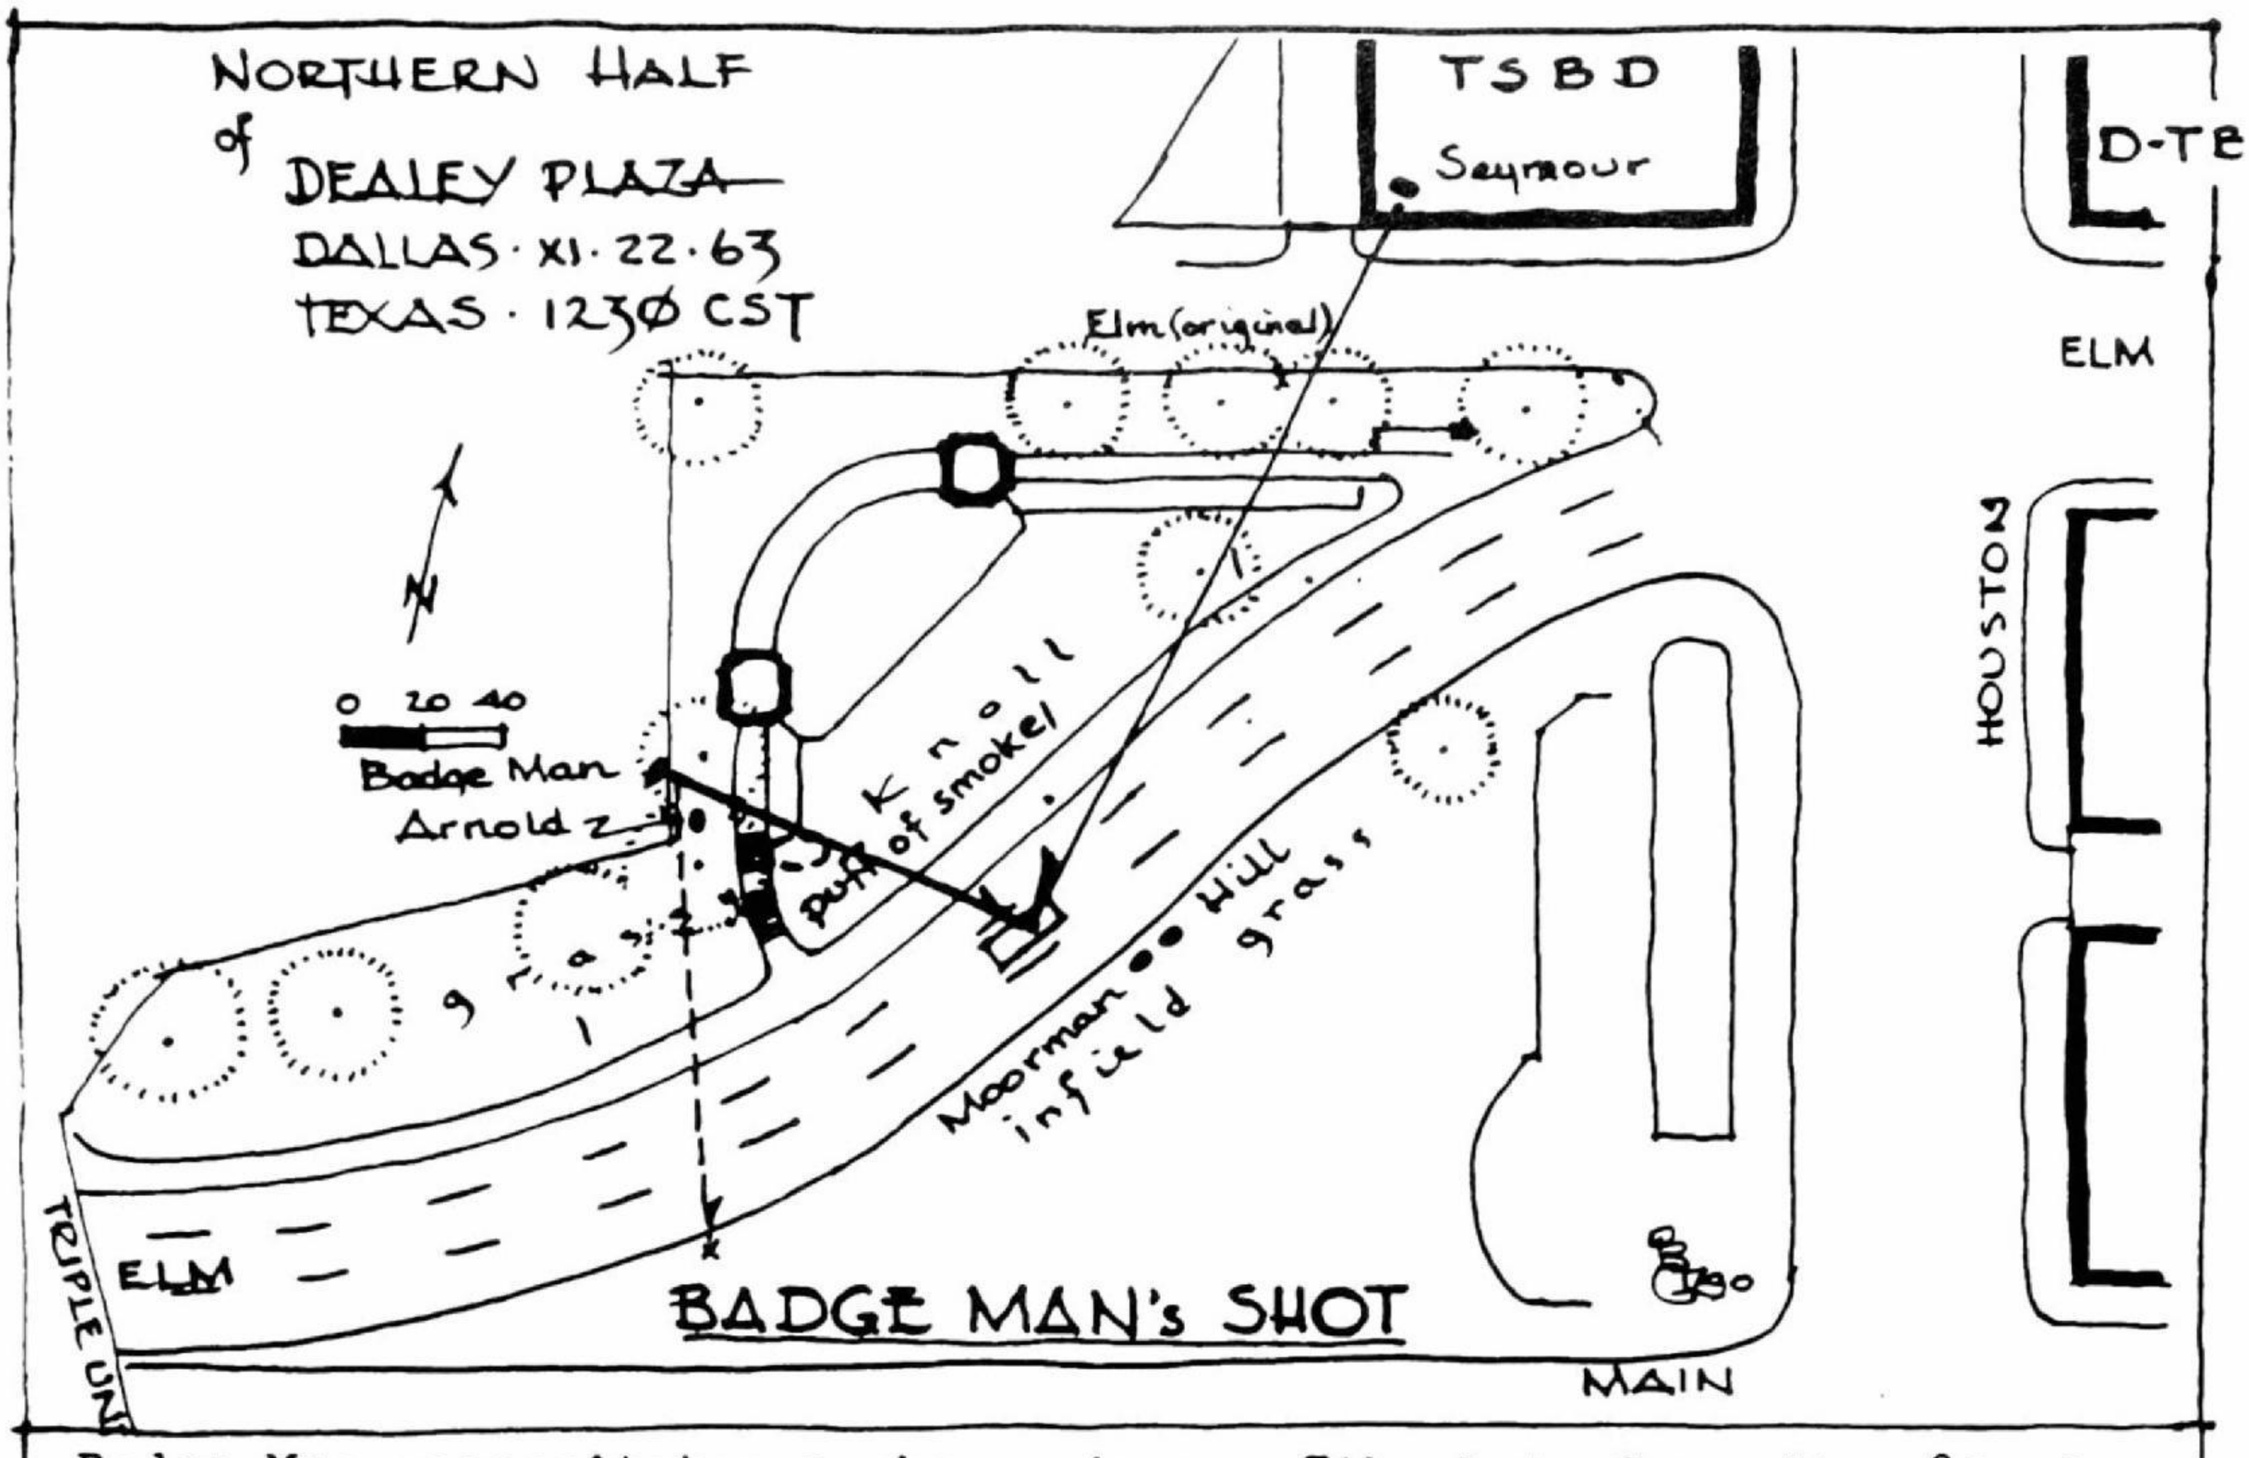
Researchers and some would-be author will some day thank Marrs for listing the strange deaths (pp 558-566) that Penn Jones jr used to publish in every issue of the Midlothian Mirror. Too long has this possibility of a best-seller incorporating all these rumors, facts and murders lain fallow. Penn listed RFK as #45 and MJK as #66; Marrs's not listing either is the cloud of the publisher's counsel poised over the word-processor. Some day someone will thumb their nose at the profession that cannot understand glasnost and CROSSFIRE will be a handy springboard.

A book of this scope deserves better than GKG's limited space. The following quote is one of the best which we hope will give the reader an inkling of the book's value.

> .... By the beginning of 1963, serious talk against Kennedy was circulating within many groups -- organized crime, the anti-Castro Cubans, the CIA, business and banking, the oil industry and even the military .....
> John F Kennedy was incorruptible by bribes. He also was the only president since Franlkin Roosevelt who was an intellectual. Kennedy had a rich sense of history and global outlook ... an idealistic vision of making the world more peaceful and less corrupt. In other words he really believed he was president and he set out to shake up the status quo of Big Banking, Big Oil, Big Military-Industrial Complexwith its powerful Intelligence Community, and Big Organized Crime, which had gained deep inroads into American life since Prohition ....

In haste to meet a deadline we forgot to copy down the page number and without an index, a pox on both author and publisher, you will have to read CROSSFIRE and find it yourself. It will not be easy but its over-view will bring the satisfaction of seeing LBJ, Nixon and Hoover being nudged into assassinaology's playpen.

GKG·A··· 11/90



Badge Man necessitates a change in our 7th shot, Crossfire 83, drwg #148, the pistol shot from behind the low wall which creates the acoustic diversion, the puff of smoke and its slug is retrieved from the infield grass. Marr's story of the action behind the fence (p 83), Arnold's experiences (p 78), Bowers' flash and Jack White's Moorman photoresearch (p 81) locating a shooter complete with badge on uniform behind and 15' north of the stockade fence corner is welcome improvement to what believe is THE firing sequence in Dealey Plaza.

Marrs does not write this shot as CROSSFIRE. Only on Evening Magazine WBZ-TV, Channel 4, Boston, MA, XI/22/89, does he say it's a shot to the President's head. In his listing of 8 or 9 shots (pp 570-1), comfortably close to our Crossfire's 8 ....

... there is evidence of another bullet striking the grass on the south side of Elm ....

The sketche's dotted flightpath making this connection forces Badge Man into a pretzel position; he did not fire a bullet into the turf. If his shot is a bullet hitting the President's head after Seymour's from the TSBD, Mrs Kennedy is wounded and Moorman and Hill are splattered with debris. Fired at right angles to the turned head, it is impossible for this shot to snap the head backward along the limousine's center-line as seen in Z-314 to Z-324.

We change out shot #7's location to originate at Badge Man's position. He fires a blank, buying time for the death squads upstairs in the D-TB and TSBD to reach ground level and excape north and east as the Dealey Plaza Harriers gallop south and west over and up the grassy knoll. ▼

GKG·5... 11/90

WHERE IS KA 007 ?

AGENCE FRANCE PRESSE Tokyo Bureau XII/11/89 :

A French aeronautical expert and former pilot, Michel Brun, working with the Fund for Constitutional Government, affirms his inquiry that KA 007 did not explode but flew on for another 50 minutes, finally crashing into the Sea of Japan off Taugaru Strait, over 500 km from Sakhalin Island. Three Air Force planes, escorting the airliner or its spy mission, were shot down in the vicinity of Moneron Island.
M. John Keppel told AFP that he had alerted several members of Congress, including Senator Sam Nunn.

GKG has freely translated and condensed this dispatch kindly sent en francais par M. John Keppel, co-author with David Pearson of the Korean airliner article published by The Nation on the first anniversary of "shootdown". The diagram on page 7 spots three "last positions", "shootdown" and its crashsite, plus the original EXPLO position and its two modifications. Who needs three military aircraft shootdowns, a 50-minute post-"shootdown" flight and another crashsite in the Sea of Japan ? ... even further removed from Abashiri.

Ruminating over this "new evidence" one is reminded of Mark Lane's Warren Report question :

What's wrong with the old evidence?

GKG re-examines two "unexplained facts" in this category:

1) Capt Ch'on, KA 007's pilot, added 10,000 pounds of extra fuel before taking off at Anchorage. WHY???

   If you expected to drift off course ~~off~~ over Kamchatka and land on Sakhalin wouldn't you take on extra fuel, especially if it would facilitate take-off again for Seoul?

2) KA 007's departure from Anchorage was delayed 40 minutes; it took off 14 minutes ahead of KA 015, also bound for Seoul. WHY?

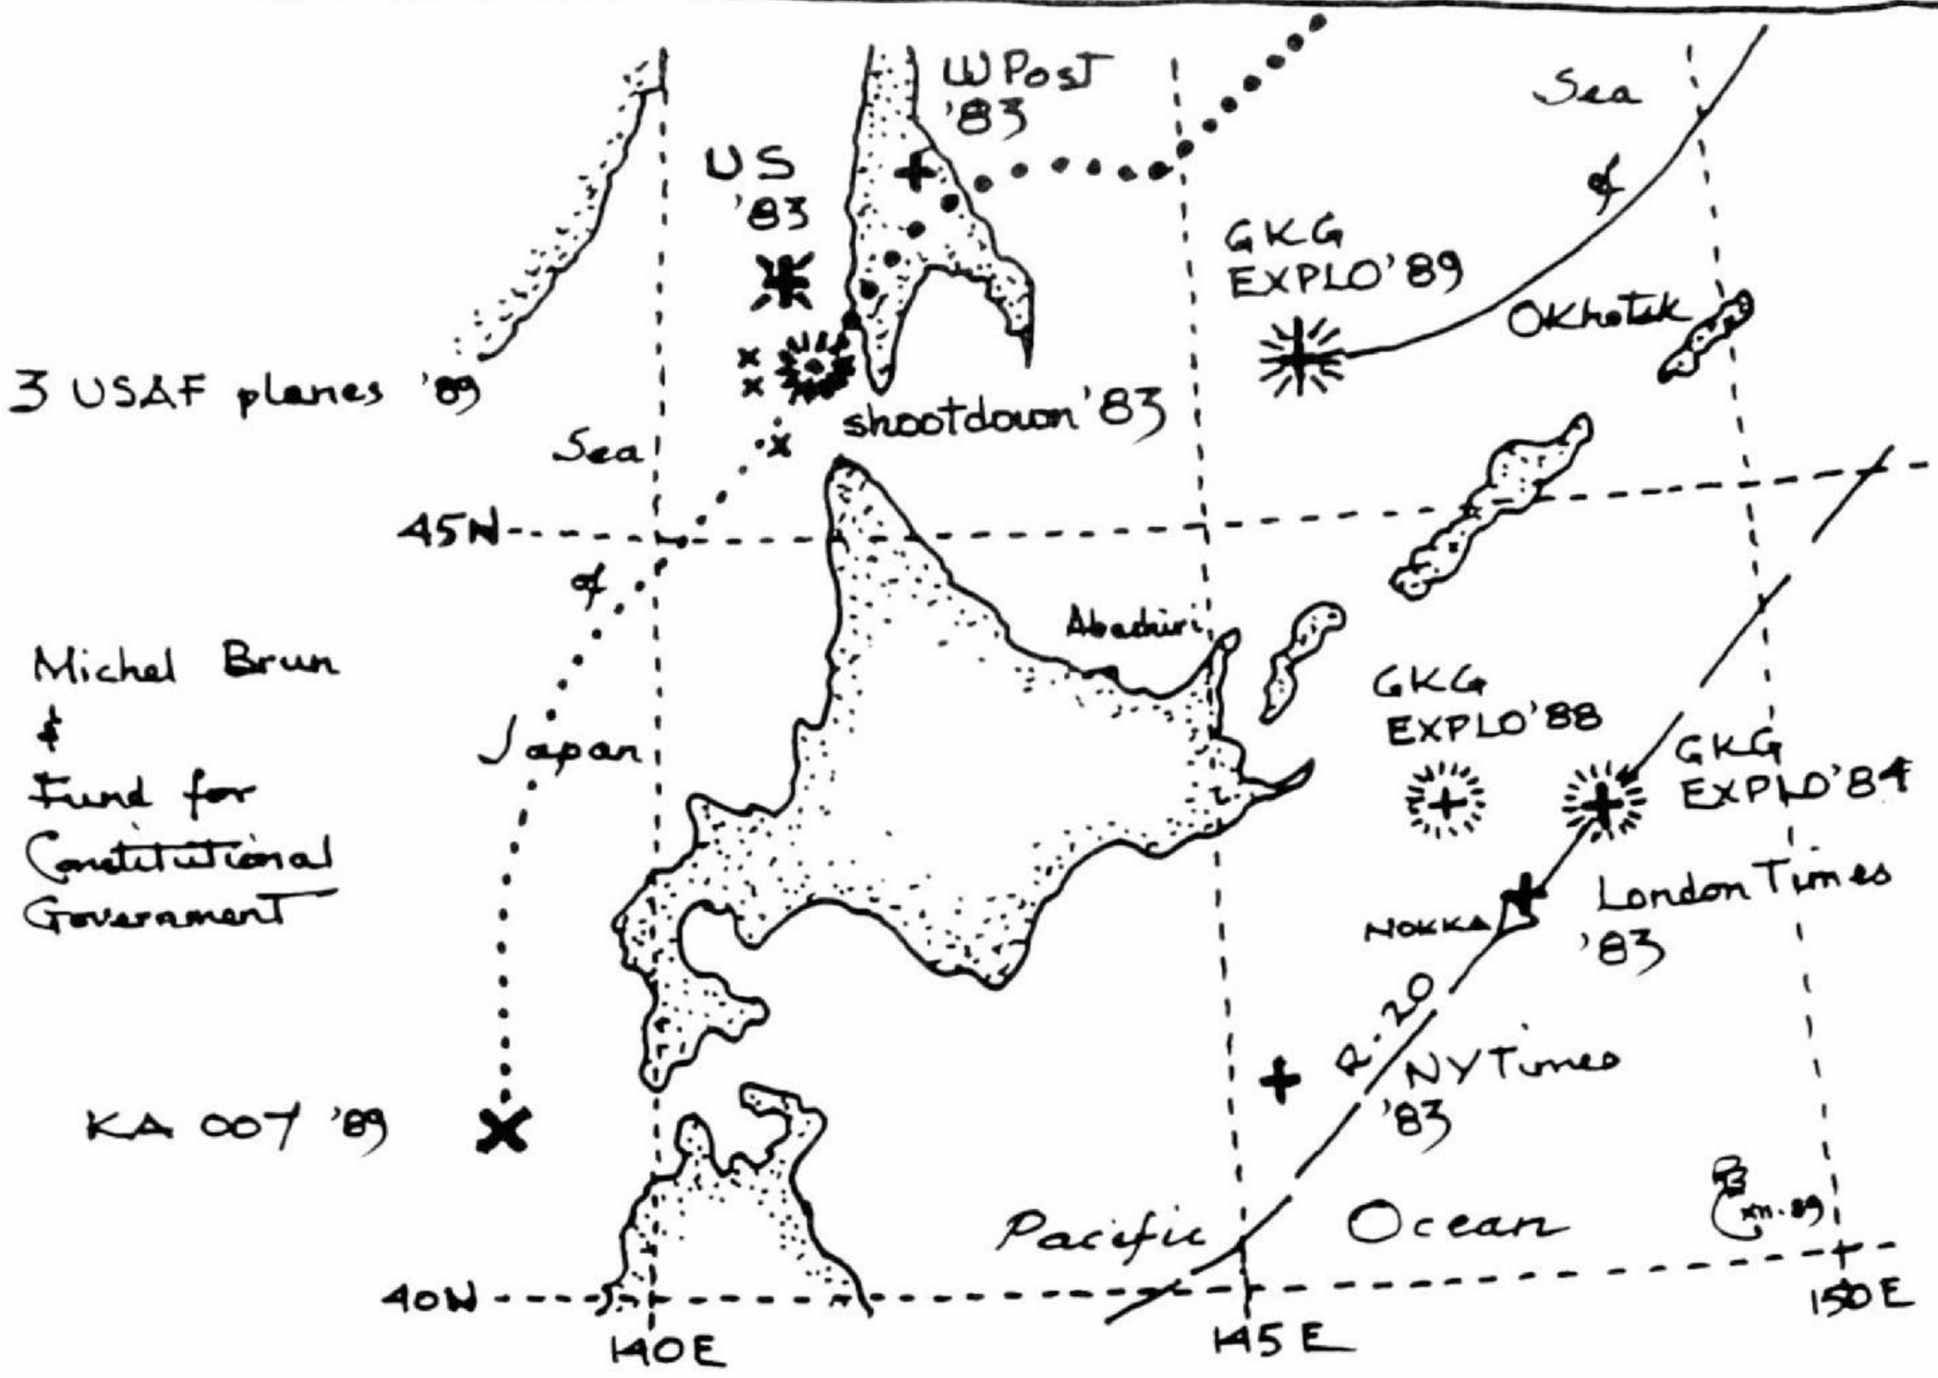
   If you expected KA 015's pilot, your friend Capt Pak Yong-man, to relay your false positions while you overflew Kamchatka, wouldn't you like to be certain he'd be in radio range while you fooled him and the air traffic controllers?

   GKG does not include Pak Yong-man in Operation RedFace's scheme to embarass the enemy by overflying its territory and landing on Sakhalin so photos of how Russians shoot down off-course airliners (could be shown) at the anniversary celebration of the US-S Korean military pact. Capt Pak figured it out after he landed at Seoul that September morning.

GKG continues to hold to the Okhotsk Card Theory of how the world suddenly took a turn for the better. KA 007 is close to 46N x 146E.
WHAT CHANGED THE EVIL EMPIRE'S SPOTS??

GKG·6·· 11/90

WHERE IS KA 007?



Having to plot where KA 007 might be is Coverup's finest hour. The agreed-upon dollar award includes at least a smidgeon of truth about the agreed-upon last resting place of the victims but there is not one family receiving the 50 million who knows the correct position of its loved-one's grave. The Court, the Defense, the Prosecution and the Executive Branch top brass all know the Russians know and no one's rocking the Ship of Peace

Abashiri, on the Sea of Okhotsk, is where the first debris surfaced nine days after and 200 miles away from where Shultz, Reagan and Kirkpatrick told the world the Russians murdered 269 on KA 007.

M. Brun and the FCG add three shootdowns and place KA 007's demise off the coast of Honshu ..without a m'aidez.

Three "last positions" in the press for IX/1/83 : the London Times' longitude-latitude is okeckpoint NOKKA on R-20 over the Pacific ; the NYTimes' "113 miles south of Nemuro" is also over the Pacific ; the Washington Post's "safe on Sakhalin", an Operation RedFace release designed as the Post's scoop.

Three EXPLO's : in '84 on R-20 over the Pacific ; in '88 shifted a bit westerly and in '89 shifted into the Sea of Okhotsk where Capt Ch'on was about to request landing instructions of Korakov on Sakhalin. The Sea of Okhotsk must have been littered for about 30 square miles ... some plane or satellite caught that on film ??

▼

GKG·7... II/90

GARDEN-PARTY DIPLOMACY

Perhaps you have forgotten Bush's visit to a meeting of the five Central American presidents when Nicaragua's Ortega, fed up with PWM Freedom-Fighters' rape and pillage of his north country, decided offense was the best defense.

The US guest, standing tall in his best Rambo-Reagan style, let his physically smaller host have it with both image-making barrels, unconciously broadcasting his own demeaned world stature with every huff and puff.

GKG, contemplating the boomerang effect of this puppet diplomacy, on Nicaragua's elections, the 25th of this month, and on the inaugural a few weeks later, was moved to invoke the muse:

Reflections on a Garden Party

Strut and bluster "little man",

One-up parties while you can;

Four more years of huff and puff,

Kinder, gentler soon enough.

Pussy-footing's nothing new

To the media come ninety-two;

Meanwhile "Beware", with your animalistas,

"The Ides of March" and the Sandinistas. (xi·89)

While sneaking in and out of China, enjoying conversations with the master, our NSC adviser appears to have captured the flavor and muzzle-reality of the Chinese Solution. With Panama behind and who knows what's ahead, it will be duck-soup for CREEP 92 to adopt Oscar Wilde's quotation, sent in by our man in Burma, as its campaign slogan:

NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE EXCESS.

Isn't it fun to be out of step with humanity's struggle to be civil?

$20 will catch you up to '90 ... by IV·1·90 it'll be too late .. let us know so we don't waste anything ... Thankyou

Allen	Antonellis	Arons	Ballenger
Barbeau	Bonds	Bridgman	Bridgeman
Burke	Campagnoli	Carlson	Carney
Carper	Carson	Chaidez	Conger
Crowell	Curtis	Davidson	Demke
Dimler	Doughty	Drummond	Fingeret
Garcia	Gay	Hall	Haviland
Hayden	Hayes	Hogan	Johnson
Koontz	Koslowsky	Krall	Krstulja
Lause	Linden	Looper	Mach
Macko	Manville	Mascarelli	Mitchell
Mitchell	O'Brien	O'Connell	O'Mara
Osborne	Opper	Padley	Parnell
Phillips W	Plummer	Quinlan	Renninger
Reynolds	Roark	Severin	Shackleford
Sheldon	Sneed	Sullins	Toner
Skrip	Stewart	thomas	Toot
Torres	Vincent	Voorspuy	Weller
Williams	Williams	Woods

pardon if we've made an error - write a blast; it'll help clean up the act

GKG 86 * 87
GKG 88 * 87
both are @ $12-ppd and available

a few Mr Chairman left @ $12-ppd. Too plenty of U the Jury the Chappy book @ $6 —
and postcards * bumperstrips, $1/doz and $1 each, respectively
TJM * 76 Secs @ * 20 ppd = 2-vol. pkg deal.

Box 1465
Manchester MA
01944

GKG·9 .. II/90